Therefore Stand!

Excerpts from an address given by Dr. Lloyd E. Fish '35, Chairman of the Psychology Department of Grace College, Winona Lake, IN., on the occasion of the HOMECOMING BANQUET, BRYAN COLLEGE, October 26, 1974.

As I stand tonight on this hilltop, in the presence of a goodly company of those who truly belong to the household of faith, and in a Christian college which is surely the handiwork of the Lord, I am reminded of the many Christian men and women who through the years have been used of Him to bring it into existence, to build it, and to sustain it. To God be the glory! . . .

As Christians, we must never forget the lessons and the blessings of the past. But, we serve a living Saviour, and it is fitting that we say "What next, Lord?"

Some years ago, I picked up a book written by Wilbur M. Smith, of the Moody Bible Institute faculty. He had titled his book "Therefore Stand," words chosen from Bunyan's "Pilgrims Progress," words reminiscent too, of Paul to the Galatians, "Stand fast, therefore, in the liberty with which Christ has made us free." . . .

I need not tell you the temper of this present age. The majority have no need and no concern for God. Much of what calls itself the "Christian church" is steeped in indifference, complacency, and compromise. Born-again Christians have always been a numerical minority. But what a minority! . . .

"Therefore stand" is not a position of defensiveness or of retreat; rather, it is a position of holy boldness from which we can in confident assurance speak the "I know" of scripture to a world that despite its overwhelming increase of knowledge and technology is yet walking in uncertainty and despair. . . .

I want to shock you a bit—Christianity in this country of ours, this United States, is the religion of a minority group, and a very small minority at that. We have been losing the battle. . . .

There yet remain some sound Christian colleges and evangelical seminaries in our nation—Bryan College is one of them—where the word of God is honored, where professors are devoted to the Lord Jesus Christ, where men and women do graduate strong in the faith—and for this we thank God.

But we must be realistic, too—this kind of college or seminary is not at all typical. We are and we remain a thin minority. . . .

The world and uncounted multitudes of its people, are not a "friend to God"; instead, their shrill challenge is "enmity"! What possible impact can we—this thin minority of born-again, evangelical Christians—make against such an overwhelming tide of antagonism, or, what is often worse, its shadowy counterpart, indifference? . . .

To the philosophers and others gathered around at Mars Hill in Athens, Paul spoke in vigorous eloquence, setting forth three great truths which I believe are the heart of what we as individual Christians—and as a corporate body of Christ—need powerfully to proclaim today! These truths are at once an apologetic, a defense of the faith, an answer, and a challenge!

Paul began his discourse—"God, who made the world and all things in it . . . is Lord of heaven and of earth." Now every serious minded person at some point begins to ask "From where did all this universe of people and things come?" Here is the clear answer—God made heaven and earth.

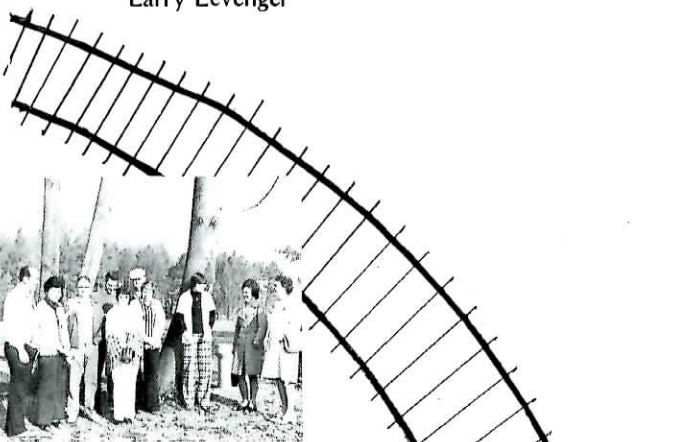

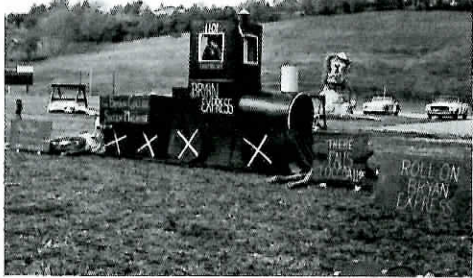

In Paul's second theme statement is the apologetic, the answer for those who demand historical certainty. "God has raised Him (Christ) from the dead."

The third great theme of Paul's address on Mars Hill was that of judgment. "He has appointed a day, in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that man (Christ) whom He has ordained." . . .

Here, then, is the apologetic, the answer for the new moralists, the situation ethicists, the apostate ministers who have refused and rejected the absolutes of God. . . .

You and I—faculty, alumni, students, born-again men and women of God—need make no apology for the Christian faith, for our position as Christians trusting Christ for time and for eternity; but we do need to proclaim the apologetic, the answer, both as a defense and as an offensive.

We have a great God—a wonderful Saviour—a glorious destiny! THEREFORE . . . STAND!!

REMEMBER THE GOOD DAYS!

by Vern Archer, Treasurer of the College and Honorary Alumnus of 1974

Vern Archer

To an alumnus you do not have to tell what the "good old days" were like at Bryan. Each one has his own memories from which to draw. Current students are often reminded of these days by returning alumni or visitors to the campus. Students today enjoy this heritage while living their "good days."

Being a privileged part of some "good old days" and the "good days" today, I would like to share some of Bryan today which has been a blessing to me. It would be familiar in an older setting to me and to many of you.

There are the "good days" at Bryan:

A Christian Life Conference where students find they need a personal Savior and accept him as their Lord.

A Day of Prayer with students praying together and confessing their sins, getting hearts right with God and others.

Staff and faculty testifying of spiritual growth through evening group home Bible studies.

Groups of students gathered in prayer or Bible study. Reports from PCI (CSA, FMF, MIA) students involved in leading Bible study classes for local school children, of mission work, of children saved.

Letters from parents thanking the administration and staff for providing the atmosphere where their son or daughter grew so much in the Lord.

Receipt of gifts from God's people to meet the needs, all in His time and way.

The general spirit of Christ on campus which visitors sense and comment upon.

Victory in lives of students who came in rebellion to all authority, yet got right with the Lord and went on to serve Him.

A student in need, with the Bryan family praying and giving to meet the need out of love.

You might not recognize the bricks and mortar but you would recognize the Christian love, the concern for others, and the devotion to the Lord manifested in hearts and lives at Bryan.

Does this bring back memories of the "good old days"?

MARGARET ANN McKINNON x'43 moved in September to Manila, Philippines to #5 New York Street, but with a mailing address of P.O. Box 972. Her summer included a trip to the "Deep South" in the Philippines to visit friends of former days of ministry, where she saw spiritual growth among the youth.

NELL PEARSON '49 in Salzburg, Austria, reports a busy nine weeks of evangelism during the summer. The Church on Wheels was used effectively and open air meetings attracted 100 to 150 people. The fall fair in September gave exposure to the Gospel including the use of French Moody films with hundreds counselled and over 130 decisions. Fall plans included the use of four new films as well as extensive children's meetings.

The Congdon Family

DALMAIN '50 and Audrey CONGDON are living in Ventnor, N. J., during their furlough from South Africa. Their daughter, Debbie, is a freshman at The King's College, and their son, David, is a pupil at Atlantic Christian School. Dal is representing the Evangelical Bible Institute under TEAM in his deputation ministry.

IOLA BAKER sp.'50 has returned to Spring City, Tenn., from Grenada, West Indies, where she has served under Berean Mission.

DONALD C. OAKLEY '50, Ph.D., continues his service with the Navy as chaplain in what he terms the "most unusual job I've ever had as a Navy Chaplain—it's the equivalent of a mental health clinic for Americans and their dependents here in the Republic of China. The Family Advisory Center (Taiwan) provides services to military, embassy staff, and Americans in the business community. It's the only place in the world that these segments of the American community have cooperated to generate and support such a center. Without it the 10,000 Americans have no place to turn when faced with family, social, and behavioral problems."

PAUL x'50 and ELAINE (KENNARD) '47 SYERS had a busy summer in Brazil conducting Daily Vacation Bible Schools assisted by Phyllis at home from the States and Dorcas from Fortaleza. Five-year old Julie began school at home this fall with her mother as teacher using the same desk that Phyllis used 18 years ago.

RONALD '52 and GLADYS (JENNEWEIN) '50 MEZNAR are encouraged by new openings for their ministry in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Their church has obtained a weekly column in one of Sao Paulo's leading newspapers through a recent convert who is on the newspaper staff. A weekly Bible class in the English language which Ron teaches now has 18 students, mostly Britishers, who are earnest seekers. Maranatha Bookstore has been expanded in time for Christmas rush. A shadow fell in their ABWE mission family when four mission wives were injured in an auto accident with another vehicle. Bryan alumna MARTHA PAYNE '54 and another are now on the mend from broken bones, but the other two ladies were called Home to Glory.

GLENN '52 and Marjorie CRUMLEY came on furlough from Zaire by way of Israel and Europe and are now making their home at 451 W. Orchard, Hazel Park, MI. 48030. They are available to hold meetings and share in conferences during their furlough time.

CLIFFORD '52 and Ruth HANHAM accompanied their third daughter, Susan and her high school graduating class from Miami Christian School on a one-week trip to Guatemala. They visited the Central American Mission Seminary and radio station and several national churches. The Spanish church in Miami had its 13th birthday with 160 members and Cuban friends attending services and dinner and hearing Dr. Elmer Thompson, founder of Cuban Bible Institute and the West Indies Mission.

DAVID '57 and KAY (TEMPLE) '55 HENRY visited Bryan with their four children early in August after a trip to see Dave's mother in Florida and on the way to Kay's parents' home in Michigan. They returned to Fairbanks, Alaska, in September.

LESTER '58 and MARY (GRAYDON) '58 DOW with their five children travel as the "Dow Family Singers" for appointments in area churches. Lester in interim pastor of a church near their home in Livermore, Maine. Mary is teaching in the public school system and the family also has a large orchard which Lester manages.

CLYDE '59 and SARA (CAULK) x'60 SMITH have moved to Turner, Maine, where Clyde became pastor of the Federated Church in August. This old, typical New England church has had a recent revival of spiritual interest through the salvation of some younger men and has prospects for new meaning in an old established church. An added blessing in Maine is the association with LESTER and MARY DOW who live just ten miles away.

Kaiser Family

RALFE '54 and JUDY (COX) x'56 KAISER live in San Jose, Cal., where Ralfe is director of Christian Education at the First Baptist Church and Judy is secretary to Roger Kaskela Agency which makes pictorial church directories. Judy recently had a story, "Today's Child" published in Child Evangelism magazine. They recently saw DEAN '53 and GRACE (SMITH) '53 KOONTZ in Monterey, Cal., where Dean is pastor of the First Baptist Church. Ralfe and Judy celebrated their 29th wedding anniversary in August and say, "Can't believe it's been that long. Still seems like our honeymoon." Their children are Jeff, 12, a baseball enthusiast, and Julie, 10, member of gifted program at school.

RALPH '54 and MELBA (MAYS) '55 MAYNARD sent the following MAILGRAM at Homecoming time to the CLASS OF 1954: "Warm greeting to all. We'd love to be with you for 20th anniversary. You sure must be getting old. Best wishes and love to all."

PAUL x'55 and Jane ARDELEAN are both teaching for Wycliffe Bible Translators in Brasilia at the American School of Brasilia—Jane 1st and 2nd and Paul secondary school math and science. They also have a ministry with 23 WBT teens on base.

HOWARD SPANOGLA x'59 of Wheaton, Ill., has received a Merit Award for two successive years as one of the top 14 high school journalism teachers in the nation. The award, given by the Newspaper Fund, granted $250 each year for journalism library materials. Also, the Glenbard East ECHO, the newspaper he advises, has been named a National Trendsetter by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Only two high school newspapers in the nation received this honor. In addition to other honors the last two years, two students have received "best-in-the-nation" awards—one for editorial and one for a comic cartoon. These awards are the equivalent of the Pulitzer prize in high school journalism.

Pimentel Family

MERL x'57 AND BARBARA (NEWTON) '57 PIMENTEL live in Ipswich, Mass., where Merl (Skip) is pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church and Barbara is a substitute teacher in elementary schools. Their daughters are Deborah, 16, a senior in high school, and Susan, 12, in 7th grade. The family lives in a home overlooking the ocean and with mountains of Maine also in view. They enjoy health foods, riding bikes and inviting company. Barbara is president of the Ipswich Woman's Club, Sunday School superintendent, and member of Bible study groups, and the family is also active in Young Life along with President Ford's son, Mike, and his wife.

MARVIN ENQUIST '60 who continues his work with the Georgia Rehabilitation Center in Warm Springs, Ga., has engaged in a new business venture, "Enquist Photographics" with the aid of his wife, Anita. Marvin was also interim pastor of Waverly Hall Baptist Church from July to November. Their son John is in the 5th grade and Aaron in first grade.

Dale Fehl

DALE FEHL '60 was awarded the Ph.D. degree in special education administration at Georgia State University in Atlanta, at the summer commencement. Dr. Fehl, his wife, Linda, and their son reside near Annapolis, Md., where he is employed by the Maryland State Department of Education as Regional Specialist in Special Education services for the handicapped.

DON '62 and JO ANN (ANDREWS) x'64 CULP have recognized the leading of the Lord in a change of employment which places Don as coordinating manager of housekeeping in the Lakeview General Hospital in Battle Creek, Mich., under Service Master Industries of Downer Grove, Ill. Their two children, Sheri, 9, and Tim, 6, are doing well in school and enjoying things of the Lord. They continue to live in Parchment, Mich.

Paul and BECKY (BOLLMAN) '63 MARCY have been able to purchase a home in Wheaton for their family which includes two sons. Paul continues his work as "Building Engineer" for their home church in Wheaton and on the side has been working on a computer programming course. They have decided for the present to discontinue active membership with Missionary Aviation Fellowship.

DAVID '63 and NANCY (STREET) x'63 PIERCEALL have moved to Charlotte, N. C., where Dave is an assistant at the Hickory Grove Baptist Church.

DONALD REED '63, director of Christian Education at the First Baptist Church of Sioux Falls, S. D., is president of the National Association of Directors of Christian Education. Dr. Brian Richardson of the Bryan faculty met him at a C.E. conference in Denver, Col., in October.

RACHEL BOLLMAN '64 has left the teaching field to become secretary to the Director of Christian Education at Wheaton Bible Church in Wheaton, Ill.

DAVID '64 and PHYLLIS sp.'64 WHITNEY have returned after four months furlough to Monte Carlo to continue their work at Trans World Radio. Robin has returned to Swansea, Wales, for her junior year in high school and Shelley is transferring to Black Forrest Academy in Germany to be in 10th grade. TWR's medium wave transmitter power has been increased to 600,000 and will be doubled in January 1975. They are broadcasting on Cyprus and seek to reach 110 million Arabs in the Mid-East.

DON '66 and BEA (PENDLETON) '66 CRANE plan for a January to July 1975 furlough to represent the Portuguese Bible Institute among American churches.

ANDY x'67 and EARLINE (EARHART) '67 STANCLIFF are living in Lancaster, Pa., while on furlough from Peru. Andy is taking some courses toward a B.S. in Bible at the Lancaster Bible College and Earline is busy with their two active sons. They are grateful for the Lord's provision of $5,000 for the purchase of recording machines and cassettes to use in their ministry in Peru. They plan to return in mid-1975.

DAVID FISHER '67 is a doctoral student at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and also pastor of the Clear Spring Baptist Church in Clear Spring, Ind. He and Gloria and their three sons live in Clarksville, Ind.

DAVID '68 and Sue CRAWFORD returned from Korea to the States in June with their two children, making their furlough headquarters in Grand Rapids, Mich.

WALLY DURHAM '69 is a salesman for DuBois Chemicals, where he has worked for two years after teaching and coaching for three years in Hicksville, Ohio. He and his wife, Marilyn, live in Ft. Wayne, Ind., where Marilyn has been a nurse at Parkview Hospital for 4½ years. (See BIRTHS for family addition news.)
